| 5. SPSA: 2023/2024 SPSA | Informational | Paredes went through his SPSA slide deck (see attached). https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1EbKOGT1ghbFbSX8V32MVU47ghtiobhWg2kyw2wsPRf0/edit?usp=sharing Team viewed the UC Dashboard together. More bars are better in each category. Gilmore asked why Filipino has no bars for ELA and Math but does show bars for suspensions. Only 11th grade takes the SBAC so only 11 students so not enough to measure. Paredes showed all the data sources available to view (slide 10). Kanazawa asked which one is the most crucial for us to look at? Paredes replied; since Math is one of our focus areas, the PowerUp data is important. SBAC is high stakes but just one test, one measure. Healthy Kids survey is important for mental health, suspension data is important. FAST data by subgroups is helpful to analyze. Gilmore asked if establishing a new base line is drastically different from 5 or even 10 years ago. Paredes: scores are closer to status quo but compared to 2019-2020, they are low. Gilmore expressed that as a Bio Med and engineer pathway school, shouldn't our scores be high in math? Hall; math has always been slow, but higher than the district and state averages. De Callafon added that the engineer department has summer tours coming to motivate students to see how math can have real life applications. Math does have a purpose. Paredes agreed that math needs to be seen as relevant. SSC members were asked to review data on their own for 5 minutes. Team noticed that grades increased in PowerUp classes. If students don't pass S1 but do pass S2, the S1 grade changes to a D. Seniors are aware of this so effort may be higher S2. Pham commented that students are not taking advantage of the retake availability in her Math classes at lunch. Hall suggested that students can test with the tutors in 457 during PE or elective. May see an increase this way. Pham noticed that 2017 had a significant higher scores in both ELA and Math. Maybe that was when we gave snacks? Decided that we will try this again with CASSAS funds. Villalobos added that a reward system for those who really try and give effort could get a ticket for a soda and chips at the student store? Hall will work on this. Paredes will send a draft SPSA out on MAY 8 for all to review. We will meet again on May 10 to vote and approve SPSA for 20232024 school year. |
